

THERE'S A SCENE

Words: Joseph O. Stillson, Hanover 1871

Melody: George F. Root

♩=120 Arr: Stephen B. Becker, Florida '69

1 There's a scene where brothers greet, kin-dred hearts do meet At an Friend-ship and gave our or-der birth, where true last-ing as the earth; Strong de-Yes, and Beta girls there are, pure and love-ly pass-ing fair, Who with

2

3

4 al- tar send- ing love's sweet in- cense high; in- cense high; Where is vo- tion to our mot- to gave us life. gave us life. With the bright- est smiles en- liv- en all our way; all our way; May our

5

6 found with- out al- loy pu- rest store of earth- ly joy_ 'Tis with-help of broth- ers dear, and of God we've naught to fear As we bro- thers ev- er prove wor- thy of such no- ble love Long as

7

8 in the halls of Be- ta The- ta Pi.
min- gle in the din of earth- ly strife.
time shall last or earth shall have a day.

9

10 CHORUS
Cheer! cheer! cheer, with hearts re-

Melody: Tramp, Tramp, Tramp

THERE'S A SCENE

11 12 13

joic- ing! bright- ly spark- les ev- 'ry eye; And our

ev- 'ry eye ev- 'ry eye

14 15

bos- oms feel the glow none but bro- thers' hearts may know While we sing the songs of Be- ta The- ta Pi.

16 17